

2024 SUMMER AT HSDM

ABOUT THE PROGRAM

This two-month preceptorship program is designed for dentists from the United States and abroad who seek to enhance their general understanding of periodontics, prosthodontics, and implantology at the graduate school level. Participants will engage in intensive summer didactic and clinical courses led by faculty members from the Harvard School of Dental Medicine (HSDM) as well as distinguished scholars and clinicians from various universities worldwide.

In addition to taking fundamental and advanced courses in periodontology, prosthodontics, and implantology, preceptors will have the opportunity to observe clinical cases treated by HSDM faculty and residents. Prior to commencing the program, candidates will undergo an interview process to discuss their program goals and expectations.

JUL 1ST – AUG 30TH, 2024

Dr. David M. Kim
(dkim@hsdm.harvard.edu)

$19,500

Boston, MA

HARVARD
School of Dental Medicine
Division of Periodontology

Program Directors

Dr. Magda Feres
Chair, Department Of OMII

Dr. German O. Gallucci
Chair, Department Of RDBS

Dr. David M. Kim
Director, Continuing Education

Dr. Lorenzo Tavelli
Director, Postgraduate Periodontics

Dr. Jason D. Lee
Director, Postgraduate Prosthodontics

General Content of the Program:

- Didactic and clinical orientation program with periodontology, prosthodontics, and implantology residents
- Hands-on preclinical laboratory experiences
- Periodontology and implantology textbook review
- Lectures/discussions led by full- and part-time HSDM faculty members
- Lectures/discussions led by international scholars and master clinicians
- Treatment planning seminar and audit of other graduate courses
- Exposure to dental laser, microscope, digital planning, facial scanning, 3D scanning/printing, and other advanced technologies
- Faculty and resident clinic observation
- Basic and clinical research exposure
- Career counseling with HSDM faculty members
- Preceptorship completion certificate signed by the program directors

Selection Process:

- Zoom interview
- Submission of required documents
- One-page essay on goals and expectations from preceptorship
- One letter of reference from colleague or former faculty member